PRICE TWO CENTS.

MOUNTING COST OF LIVING BECOMES PARAMOUNT ISSUE

President Told That Intolerable Situation Must End or Bread Riots Threaten---To Personally Look Into Charges of Country-Wide Profiteering.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 31.—"Reduce the daily increasing high cost of living or face bread riots." That in effect, is the chief slogan now being impressed on President Wilson and his chief aides by national labor and sociological leaders. It is expected here that President Wilson, in the very near future, will ask congress to take drastic measures to end a situation that daily is becoming more and more intolerable.

R. R. Men's Warning.

The president last night and again today was studying the report presented to him by Warren G. Stone and the advisory board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Their flat declaration that "a widespread spirit of unrest exists among all classes, especially among wage earners whose wages will no longer provide adequate food, shelter and clothing for themselves and families" has stirred the chief executive very deeply, his friends declare. This concrete warning by the chief engineers of the danger confronting the people, furnished a complete summation up of many statements which have been prepared in the White House and the various government departments, ever since the president came back from France.

An Expert Inquiry.

It is now expected that the cabinet will be asked at once to have the experts in the various departments initiate an inquiry into the reasons for the soaring price of foodstuffs.

Meanwhile the president personally will look into the charges that the buying power of the American dollar has been reduced through manipulation by food profiteers who are operating in every part of the United States.

Organized labor is decried today to be a unit in favoring drastic action to bring prices down. Certain of the leaders are claimed to be ex-communicated from the authority of the congress of a kind of control created with absolute authority to fix prices on all kinds of food and clothing. That such action will be taken is believed certain, unless the next few weeks develop an easier working plan that will cover the situation.

Prices Rose With Return of Peace.

With the demobilization of the army and return of millions of workers to civil life, it had been expected that production costs would drop and that this would carry down food prices. The contrary has been the case. It has been freely charged on the floor of congress during the last ten days that the withholding from the market of thousands of tons of foodstuffs stored by the army has aided food profiteers in maintaining prices at an unheard of figure, with the result that the workers of the nation have suffered. With the dumping of this stored food on the open market during the coming week, prices of canned goods, ham, bacon and tinned meats are expected to be materially reduced in many centers.

Storage Plant Explanation.

According to the latest reports available there is a very large increase in the amount of butter, eggs and dairy products in the big storage plants over the figures of a year ago. However, the storage experts insist that this increase is a natural one, and if it did not take place next winter's prices on these products would be absolutely prohibitive.

Clothing prices also are far beyond reason the advocates of radical action declare. Suits that sold a year ago for $25 now are quoted at double that figure and further increases are in sight. The manufacturers declare that this is due to increased costs of raw materials and production. Labor leaders in many of their letters which are reaching Washington, insist that it is at least in part due to increased capitalization of many manufacturing companies which "injected water" in large quantities into capital stock sold to the public.

Engineers' Figures Impressive.

The flat declaration by the locomotive engineers' committee that "the daily wage of $5 prior to the war which at that time was worth 500 cents today is worth approximately only $2.15," had impressed congressional leaders as well as the administration. Because of the inflation of prices into practically every legislative problem so far considered by the congress—and both parties seem equally responsible for this—the problem of legislation that will relieve the situation becomes increasingly difficult. It is declared to be unlikely that congress will allow the president to name any price fixing board unless it is named "with the consent of the senate." In assuming this position it was expected today that the leaders would justify their action by reviewing the action of other boards that have attempted such work in the past.

DE VALERA MADE IMPRESSION IN MONTANA

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Helena, Mont., July 31.—Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," left here today for New York city, where he will make preparations for a systematic speaking tour of the United States.

De Valera yesterday addressed a joint session of the Montana legislature and it was predicted today that the legislature, as a result of his address, will call upon Senators Walsh and Meyers, of Montana, to vote for recognition of the republic of Ireland before the League of Nations covenant is ratified.

De Valera also placed a wreath upon the statue of General Thomas Francis Meagher, a former Irish republican leader, who fought in the American civil war, and later was first governor of Montana.

WILSON DIDN'T CONVINCE KEYES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 31.—Following a conference with President Wilson at the White House today, Senator Keyes, of New Hampshire, Republican, declared that his stand for reservations to the peace treaty was unchanged. He declared that this was especially true as to article XV.

"Mr. Keyes is stiffer than ever," the New Hampshire senator declared, as he left the White House.

Senator Keyes said his conversation with the president was devoted almost entirely to the subject of reservations. He is understood to have told the president that a set of reservations such as, sponsored by former President Taft, would insure the ratification of the treaty.

TWO KILLED IN NEW HAVEN WRECK

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Stamford, Conn., July 31.—Frank Brickley, of New Haven, engineer, and Charles Rust, of New Haven, instructor, were killed early today in a rear-end collision of two freight trains on the New Haven Railroad between Greenwich and Port Chester. The wreckage caught fire and the Greenwich and East Port Chester fire departments were called out. The fire burned for several hours.

SOVIETS LOSING IN HUNGARY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, July 31.—Two hundred and eighty-three Hungarian communities in Hungary have decided to declare their independence of the soviet government at Budapest, the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph reported today.

The soviet troops at Budapest refused to quell the demonstrations of striking metal workers.

HORSEMEN TO HOLD CLAMBAKE

The Kingston Horsemen's Association will hold the first annual clambake at Lake Katrine Inn on Wednesday, August 13. The bake will open at 6 o'clock that afternoon.

The committee in charge have a number of surprises in store, and it is expected that every member of the association will be on hand for the first annual to make it a success.

Zealandia Brings Artillerymen.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, July 31.—Held up by a broken propeller, the transport Zealandia arrived from Brest today two days over due. On board the thirteenth field artillery of the fourth division, sixty officers and 1,470 men and the hundred and thirteenth ammunition train, 15 officers and 429 men. The artillery unit which fought at Chateau-Thierry and in the Argonne forest was commanded by Colonel Wright Smith who won the distinguished service medal and the cross de guerre.

Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Hughes has issued an order reopening the trial in the case of Charles E. Eckert, Jr., against Alice M. Freder, administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits which were of Marasmus A. Freder deceased, for the purpose of receiving additional testimony. The testimony will be taken in the chambers of the justice at Cohasset on August 9 at 10 a. m. DeWitt W. Osterlander of Cohasset is attorney for the plaintiff.

ALLIED AGAINST COMPULSORY INSURANCE

Ulster Branch of Defensive League of the Allied Professions Formed to Oppose Enactment of Measure in Legislature by Which State Would Assign Doctors, Dentists, Etc., to All Within Certain Districts.

Physicians, dentists, nurses and optometrists to the number of about one hundred met in the court house Wednesday evening and organized a county branch of the Defensive League of the Allied Professions for the purpose of opposing the so-called Compulsory Insurance bill that passed the state senate this year but was killed in the assembly. The bill has been made a Democratic party measure, backed by Governor Smith, but those in opposition to it are of all shades of party opinion. One great purpose of the new league is to inform the public of the true nature of the bill, which under the name of compulsory insurance really creates thousands of political jobs for doctors and compels everyone to pay toward their support and accept the service of the doctor or dentist assigned by the state or else pay over again to the doctor or dentist he selects.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. Frank Lastman, president of the Ulster County Medical Society, who while awaiting the arrival of Dr. James F. Rooney, the speaker of the evening, read the following carefully prepared and concise statement of the purposes of the bill, its results if passed and the reason for the opposition.

You are here at the request of the Ulster County Medical Society to organize a defense of the medical, dental, nursing, drug and optometrist professions of the county, with the avowed purpose of

1. Defeating all compulsory health insurance and similar pernicious legislation.

2. To support proper legislation for the advancement of public health.

3. The co-operation with other civic bodies for public betterment.

We feel that any one who thoroughly understands this legislation will vote against it and it is with this purpose in mind that we have asked Dr. James F. Rooney, the chairman of the legislative committee of the New York State Medical Society, Senator Walton and Assemblyman Brink to tell us what they know about compulsory health insurance. We have also asked Simon E. Van Wageningen, the designated primary candidate for the assembly, to be present so that he may also inform himself as to the measure, because we are promised by the compulsory health insurance side that there will be another bill presented this next session and we must line up at once against it and tell our side of the case as it really is.

Every legislature in the United States turned it down last year but New York state came so near passing the measure that we know we must fight harder than ever this year. The governor and Democratic party were solid for it and the senate passed the Davenport-Donahue bill. The measure, however, was stopped in the assembly, rules committee by the Republican majority in the assembly.

Four hundred doctors besides manufacturers, dentists, druggists and others, appeared against this bill at Albany, considering it the most pernicious piece of legislation ever put before the American public.

This legislation was evolved first by Bismarck thirty-five years ago to throttle Socialism and to tie labor, hand and foot—slaves to the monarchial, capitalist schemes of the German government, by giving them sick benefits and old age pensions so that they would stick on one job or lose their benefits.

Again in 1911, Lloyd George had a dockyard strike on his hands and after looking over the German system and seeing that labor was properly tied in Germany, forced through the British parliament compulsory health insurance law. That has never been satisfactory to labor, and has starved the medical and allied professions the same as in Germany and has not made sickness less because when a man has a free doctor, he takes advantage of it and moreover, and as there has been no incentive for men to enter professions to starve—they have gone into other callings. Ochsmers says "Nothing of medical importance has come out of Germany in 29 years but Socialism."

Now, gentlemen, the large capitalist interests of America are trying to do the same thing and have, as the chief propagandists, the society for labor legislation, composed of 25,000 college professors and not one labor man, who are working night and day to get their measures through. The Model Bill proposed is:

1. Cash benefits 2-2 of wages for 24 weeks in one year, not to exceed $5.00 or less than $3.00 per week.

2. Free medical and surgical service.

3. Free nursing attendance.

4. Free medical and surgical supplies.

5. Hospital service.

6. Cash benefits to dependents.

7. Funeral benefits up to $100.

8. Maternity benefits eight weeks, two weeks before and six weeks after delivery.

9. Free dental work.

10. Free medical treatment for dependents.

Men's Supper Great Success.

The men's vacation time supper, gotten up entirely without the aid of the women, was held at the Wurtz Street Baptist Church by the Men's Baraca Class Wednesday evening. The supper was a great success. During the evening a fine program was rendered. The menu consisted of cold sliced meat and boiled ham, potato salad, raised biscuit and rye bread, tomato and lettuce salad, iced tea and hot coffee, pickles and olives with cake and watermelon for dessert.

BARGAINS TO BE MAIN DOLLAR DAY FEATURE

The number of merchants who will participate in Dollar Day on Wednesday, August 6th, was greatly increased today as the result of a drive by the executive committee in charge of the event. The committee will go out again tomorrow. It is the purpose of the committee working under the retail group of the chamber of commerce to enlist every merchant, large or small, in taking an active part in Dollar Day. The committee has worked out a scheme whereby every merchant in the city, no matter what his business is, can take part in Dollar Day, and can offer bargains, not all at a dollar but at reductions measured in dollars.

Dollar Day is to be put across, with a bang. Though not on as large a scale as Dress-Up Week, yet by the bargains offered and the merchandise displayed, the public will have an opportunity of realizing that Kingston merchants carry just as good material and merchandise, and offer just as good values as the stores in any other town. The merchants do not intend trotting out the stuff that won't sell. They offer standard merchandise such as is sold on any other day, but at bargain prices. Kingston will have a busy day on August 6th for it is expected that bargain hunters will come to town from all sections of the county. An extensive advertising campaign is to be conducted in the rural districts. The merchants who will take part in Dollar Day will display cards to that effect in their stores and windows.

DECKER FREE AFTER AUTOPSY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paterson, N. J., July 31.—Lester Decker, fiancé of Miss Mabel Harris, whose body was recovered from Pompton river yesterday, after her disappearance Sunday night, was released from custody today.

An autopsy performed by County Physician Anderson convinced Assistant Prosecutor Hunsdon that Miss Harris had been drowned and that Decker's story that she lost her life when their canoe was carried over the Pompton Lake dam, was true. Anderson's examination disclosed little water in the girl's lungs, but the county physician said today that he thought this condition might have been caused by her fainting or being stunned by being thrown against the rocks.

The bruises on Miss Harris's body and the scratches on her cheeks were attributed to the fact that she was tossed against the rocks below the dam by a strong current. Members of her family expressed confidence in young Decker's innocence after the autopsy.

Decker explained the absence of the girl's shoes by saying that she had removed them in the canoe for comfort.

ENTRIES COMING FOR BABY CONTEST

Keen interest is being shown in the baby contest, which will be one of the big features of the Mardi Gras to be held at Kingston Point Park. William W. TROOPS FAIL TO CHECK RACE RIOTS IN CHICAGO Negroes Chased and Beaten Out of Stockyards ---Reports Current of Killings---U. S. Mail Hampered.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 31.—Despite the presence of 6,000 troops, armed with machine guns, rifles and bayonets, in the riot zones, race rioting again broke out today on the south side, when a mob of white men attacked negroes who sought to return to their work in the stock yards.

Soldiers of the state militia allowed the colored workers to pass through the gates to the stock yards and the white men immediately attacked, driving the blacks scurrying through the mazes of "packing town." As a result of the renewed rioting several negroes were severely beaten. Reports that four blacks had been killed were not verified.

Outside the yards several white men attacked a lone negro but he was rescued by soldiers. The crowd then set upon the soldiers and a desperate fight followed. The soldiers charged the mob with bayonets and dispersed it.

A mob at South Union avenue and West 43rd street dispersed at the approach of the police, but left behind them a negro with stab wounds in his chest from which it is believed he will die.

Chief of Police Gafferty went before the city council today and demanded authority to appoint 2,500 extra policemen as the result of renewal of the rioting. Danger of interference with the United States mails caused Postmaster Carlisle to consider today asking for armed troops to convoy negro workmen to the federal building. About 1,000 negroes are employed in the post office and their inability to reach their work has seriously crippled the post office force.

The food shortage that threatened general starvation in the negro district was alleviated somewhat today when the police announced that it is now safe for merchants to make deliveries of supplies to the riot zone.

POTATOES SOLD BY WEIGHT ONLY

Sixty Pounds to the Bushel—Dry Measure Condensed—Scaler of Weights and Measures Moyle Ascertains That Fact.

City Sealer of Weights and Measures William Moyle has received word from Director W. T. White, which was approved by Commissioner Eugene H. Porter of Foods and Markets of the state, that potatoes must be sold by weight, and not by dry measure. This means that under the state law a bushel of potatoes should weigh sixty pounds, a half bushel thirty pounds, fifteen pounds to the peck, etc.

Peck Measure Short Weight.

Director White in reply to inquiries states that a regular peck measure will not hold fifteen pounds of potatoes. Mr. Moyle advises the purchasing public that when they make purchases of potatoes that they insist upon the potatoes being weighed, and not measured by dry measure.

He states that while vegetables may be sold by the head or bunch, many of these commodities are customarily sold by heap measure. The results of this method are very inaccurate, he states, and the law has tried to correct this by providing that in the absence of special agreements a bushel of various produce shall weigh as follows: Wheat, Potatoes, peas, or beans, 60 pounds to the bushel; sweet potatoes, 54 pounds; onions, 57 pounds; carrots, 50 pounds; and apples, 48 pounds.

Buy by Weight.

This, he says, is rather confusing, but the easy way out is to insist on buying by weight instead of by dry measure. Sixty pounds of potatoes is definite but a bushel of potatoes is not. No two men, he says, will put the same amount of potatoes in a dry measure, especially when the commodity has to be heaped. Both the purchasing and the selling public should insist on the dry measure going into the discard wherever possible.

Mr. Moyle suggests that the consumer always ask for a definite quantity. Never ask for "a basket" or "a box" or "a peck" or "10 cents worth." These mean absolutely nothing.

In regard to meats and meat products and butter he says these must be sold by weight. He advises the consumer to be sure and get a written representation as to the weight and that the quantity bought does not include the wrappings, tags, dishes, etc. When buying butter, lard or lard compound, the word or paper trays and paper must not be included in the weight. Mr. Moyle says this has been a very common practice in Kingston, and as some of these containers weigh two ounces or more, the loss to the consumer is apparent.

Entitled to Meat Trimmings.

He further states that the butcher is allowed to charge for the meat as its untrimmed weight, but the purchaser should see to it that not too much trimming is done. Always have your trimmings sent home with your meat. You can use them to feed your dog. When this is done you can tell the actual weight of the meat you bought. This is especially true if you order by telephone.

PARCEL POST DISTRIBUTION OF ARMY FOOD

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, July 31.—Details for the distribution, through the parcel post, of the war department's $41,000,000 pounds of surplus foodstuffs, were being worked out today by representatives of the post office department and E. C. Morse, assistant director of sales. In the meantime, Assistant Secretary of War Crowell was preparing a price list to be framed to postmasters and rural carriers throughout the country.

The disposition of the surplus in this manner is in conformity with a resolution sponsored by one of the subcommittees investigating the cost of the war and passed by the house. The value of the surplus available July 8 was approximately as follows: Canned vegetables $23,000,000; corned beef $24,000,000; bacon, $23,000,000; hashed corn beef, $10,000,000; roast beef, $20,500,000, and fresh frozen meats and poultry, $20,000,000.

AMERICAN LAWYER FOR KAISER

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Detroit, Mich., July 31.—Word was received today that if William Hohenzollern, ex-king of Germany, is ever brought before an international or inter-allied court for trial for his war crimes, Charles F. George, a Detroit lawyer, has been retained to give opinions on the knotty questions of international law that have arisen and will arise through the proposed extradition of the ex-ruhr.

Two other Americans, whose names are withheld, have been engaged to accompany Mr. George to Holland to assist in the defense of the deposed emperor.

Mr. George, who is editor of the Lawyer and Banker, a high class publication, issued from New Orleans, La., is a recognized lawyer on extradition law, and it was his writings on the question of the disposition of the ex-king, that attracted the attention of high placed individuals abroad.

Mr. George would not reveal the identity of his clients but it is known that they are located in Copenhagen and that Mr. George has already furnished opinions to them in the legal phases connected with the ex-king's extradition.

CHICAGO STRIKE REFERENDUM

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, July 31.—A referendum election that is expected to lead to a settlement of Chicago's street car strike, will be held tomorrow, when 15,000 striking employees of the surface and elevator lines will vote for acceptance or rejection of the compromise offer submitted by the traction company officials. The referendum was ordered by W. H. Mahon, international president of the car men's union, after conferences with union leaders, company officials and state officials.

Mahon and other union leaders are confident that the men will vote to accept the offer, which provides for wage increases to 67 cents from the present scale of 48 cents per hour for the eight hour day with time and a half for overtime and other adjustments in working conditions.

Government Aiding in Returning Service Men to Jobs—Honorable Discharge a Valuable Paper.

When an employer has no further use for one of his men, he considers his obligations fulfilled when he furnishes a perfunctory letter of recommendation to aid his discharged employee in getting his next job. An honorable discharge from Uncle Sam is worth more than a perfunctory recommendation from a private employer. But Uncle Sam, who finds it necessary now to dispense with the emergency services of four million fighting men, is not satisfied merely to put his John Hancock at the bottom of 4,000,000 pieces of engrossed paper. He wants if possible actually to place every one of those men into a civilian job.

When the war was on, the slogan of the government was to get the men out of their civilian jobs and into the army and navy. Now Uncle Sam's aim is to get them out of the service and into civilian jobs. This is a colossal task. It is much easier to train men from many employers to one than to reverse the process and distribute satisfactorily four million among hundreds of thousands of employers.

By a nation-wide system of re-employment, operating under the unified direction of Colonel Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, the government expects to make good on its voluntarily assumed task of seeing that every one of its discharged men gets a job. In the New York city re-employment bureau, operated by the war department with the help of the war welfare organizations and the Merchants' Association, about an equal number of applications for men is received as for jobs, and in many trades and occupations more jobs are offered than there are men to fill them.

The reason for the rapid absorption of the army into our civilian life lies in the patriotism of both the employer and the worker, and in the American sense of order. The American soldier has never learned the habits of the European who prefers to let the government do it for him. He feels it "up to" him to get back to work, and he does it.

Of course, while in the army and navy, the service man learned to work hard. He is no longer afraid of work, for almost any sort of civilian work is a vacation when compared to the hardships of the trenches. An educational campaign carried out by Col. Woods has convinced the employer of this, and he is quick to utilize the increased economic efficiency of the discharged soldier, sailor and marine. If it were not for the temporary disturbance of the business conditions on account of the European situation we should now have no employment problem at all.

Mrs. Frank Bloom has returned to her home in Irvington, N. Y., after spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Kram, caring for her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. George Van Kleeck and little son, Lester, of Samosville spent Sunday with Mrs. Van Kleeck's mother, Mrs. M. DuBois.

At our Fourth of July celebration this year $407.48 was taken in and our expenses, including everything, amounted to $228.36. Therefore our net proceeds amounted to $179.12.

One Good Point About Him.
Robert did not seem to think the new baby's looks were all they might be. It was his first view of a real new baby and he stood looking down at the little wife with wonder in his eyes. Suddenly he began to cry most lustily and he looked up quickly with a pained expression in his eyes and said: "Well, mother, he has lots of prey in his cry anyway."Open Friday Evening

WANT "ADS" 10 CENTS PER LINE PER DAY

PRODUCE SHIPPERS' OFFICIAL ADVICE

Commissioner Porter of the Division of Foods and Markets is advising all shippers consigning produce to the New York city market; to notify the Division of Foods and Markets, 90 West Broadway, of such shipment in advance so it may be followed up with the interest of the shipper in view.

Poultry raisers are cautioned against having the sides of their shipping crates closed, because the express companies pack these crates one upon the other, thus cutting off the air from those underneath and causing the death of hundreds of birds from suffocation.

When shipping produce the shipper should mail on the same day, or, better still, a day in advance, a statement to the commission merchant showing just exactly what is to be shipped. This is particularly important when eggs are to be sent, for many times if a commission merchant knows a consignment of eggs are on the way he can arrange for a sale at a better price than would be possible if they arrived unexpectedly. In shipping a partially filled crate of eggs don't fail to state the quantity it contains on the outside of the crate. It may hardly be necessary to add, in connection with the shipping of eggs that all old marks on the cases should be absolutely removed and all marking done with paint or good stout tags firmly tacked down. Also have the name and address of the shipper on each tag.

Commissioner Porter has frequently been asked for advice by farmers wishing to ship dressed calves and roasting pigs. Shippers of calves are advised that those from four to six weeks old and weighing 75 to 100 pounds are the best sellers in the New York city market.

When dressing a calf be careful not to disturb the covering on the kidneys. In warm weather a large piece of ice should be placed inside the calf and the opening sewed up. Never sew a calf up except to keep in the ice. Mark for shipment by sewing a shipping tag to the bag skin between the hind legs. Fat calves, butter milk, grass and yearlings sell much lower in price than real calves.

Roasting pigs weighing from 10 to 15 pounds usually sell best. Great care should be used in scalding. If the water is too hot it cooks and spoils the appearance of the stock. Open the belly just enough to take out the entrails, including the liver.

Draw the hind legs up as close as possible and run a strong skewer through each foot and the belly. Then bring the fore legs down and secure them in the same way as the hind legs. Do this before the meat is set.

Shippers of live stock should make it a point to have their beasts arrive in New York city on Sunday, so they will be ready for the Monday market. Live stock arriving in the city on Saturday are very likely to be held until Monday and, therefore, will be charged with more feeding and the shrinkage will be greater.

METACAHONTS.

FARMERETTES ARE ROTARY GUESTS

Head of Marlborough Camps Tells Why Ulster Demand Could Not Be Met—A Fine Voice Not Impaired by Work on Farm.

Miss Florence Mitchell, in charge of the Women's Land Army Camps at Marlborough, with two other farmerettes of the Land Army, were guests at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday. During the luncheon, Harry P. Dodge, who can discover musical ability anywhere, within forty miles, found that Miss Della Samoiloff, one of the farmerettes, possessed a fine soprano voice and induced her to sing "My Little Gray Home in the West," which was so persistently applauded that Miss Samoiloff gave as an encore a Russian folk song, which was equally pleasing. Miss Samoiloff is a college girl, the daughter of a noted grand opera soloist in New York, who has been spending her vacation as a farmerette in Marlborough.

After the Rotarians had sung their usual songs and Mr. Dodge's lions had roared for the ladies, Miss Mitchell gave a brief talk on the Land Army, which came into existence as a war emergency measure, but which had made good to such an extent that farmers who had been aided by it pleaded for it to continue. While at first there were faddists who made it "too much of a pink tea affair," it settled down to business and was proving very efficient in making good the shortage in short time farm labor. By adopting the unit system it ensured proper supervision and discipline and relieved farm women of the necessity of staying in summer time to provide food for extra hands.

The Land Army unit provide their own food. Women from the city without organization and supervision do more harm than good on farms. They run wild, even worse than in the city. But properly supervised they have been found efficient and far better off than if spending their vacation time in idleness in the city, roaming the streets and thinking about nothing but clothes and a good time. On the farm they work too hard to care to roam. It takes their minds off frivolity, builds up their health and gives them some money over and above expenses. Instead of going to a summer resort and spending money they work and earn money. Girls who worked only two weeks went home with from $12 to $24 net earnings.

The Land Army trains girls to work and to respect work. For 20 years past girls have been growing more irresponsible in character, with no idea of work along domestic lines. The Land Army sent 700 girls to the Hudson River Valley fruit section and would have sent more had not a man named Rexford, through the schools of New York, circulated a report that Ulster county was fit only for hoboes. Ulster county needed 1,200 girls, and they were enrolled, but after the Rexford report they refused to come here. In this emergency the Land Army officials went about picking up hoboes for the farmers, to help save the fruit. It was pathetic, with the high prices prevailing, to see berries rotting for lack of pickers. The Land Army fills the demand in the berry fields, where the rush season lasts only six or seven weeks. Later it is hoped to bring them back for the peaching and grapes.

Miss Mitchell spoke of the food problem, no milk or fresh vegetables being produced on the fruit farm, and said it was planned to buy or loan a farm for the Land Army, and grow vegetables next year, farmerettes doing the work. Farmers were glad to get the girls because they could be depended on, unlike the hoboes who would turn up intoxicated. She illustrated this by telling of work done on the building used as headquarters, when she offered men 45 cents an hour and they preferred to loaf and drink—so the girls did the work without pay. Funds are needed for expenses of supervision. The girls receive all they earn and pay their board, so there is no revenue for supervision and other organization expenses, except from contributions.

In Newburgh, this week a drive was put on and in one day $300 was contributed.

The Rotarians gave the visitors a rousing reception and greatly appreciated the practical talk given by Miss Mitchell.

Some Remarkable Shooting.

A play was being given by a group of soldiers, the hero of which was to shoot blank cartridges at a row of bottles standing on a shelf, while another soldier, well concealed, was to break each bottle in turn with the point of his bayonet, thus pretending that the hero was shooting the bottles. Through some misunderstanding the hero started shooting at the wrong end of the row, while at the other end the bottles were being broken.

Complete Recovery.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS.

2624—A Pretty Dress For Party or Best Wear.

In organdie, net, dotted swiss or batiste, this model will be very attractive. It may be trimmed with lace or embroidery edging, or, the free edges of bolero and sleeve, and the tucks may be finished with hemstitching. If desired, the bolero may be omitted. Voile, gabardine, gingham, poplin and repp are nice, too, for this design. As illustrated, the neck edge may be high or low, and the sleeve in bishop, bell or puff style.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 2½ yards of 27-inch material for the dress and ¾ for the bolero. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state size wanted.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 31, 1919

WHITES AND BLACKS.

"One of the most brutal forms of oppression," says the New York World, "is the punishment of a whole race for the crimes of individuals." Coming from the World, this, taken by itself, might readily be supposed to refer to prohibition's denial of intoxicants to a whole people because of the drunkenness of relatively few individuals. But this time the anti-prohibition World is discussing race prejudice in America which at times leads to outbreaks against the black in general during the mob's pursuit of an individual or individuals known or suspected to be guilty of some serious crime or after the lynching of the accused.

Such anti-negro outbreaks, usually precipitated by the crime of an individual or of individuals, have occurred in both the Northern and Southern States. Lynchings of negroes guilty of shocking crimes or suspected of such guilt have been far more frequent in the South than elsewhere. This being an inevitable consequence of the fact that the bulk of the race is congregated there and that the great majority of the crimes which arouse the mob spirit necessarily occur in that congested section. For the same reason the Southern mob usually restricts itself to vengeance on the guilty or accused individuals, rarely attacking the negroes in general in a section where negroes are everywhere found in large numbers and where an attempt to drive them out would involve too great a task. For obvious reasons general anti-negro outbreaks have mostly occurred in Northern and Middle Western States, where driving the relatively few blacks out of a given community and causing them to flee to another is a practical possibility.

The difference is one of conditions, not one of spirit. In North and South the prejudice is the same, with the same fundamental cause—the instinctive aversion toward each other exhibited by the wholly distinct races or grand divisions of the human race and the friction resulting therefrom whenever two of these races occupy a common territory and compete with each other on more or less equal terms. Owing to the long association of the two races this instinctive aversion is perhaps less pronounced in the South than elsewhere. Though the black criminal is too often the victim of Southern mob violence, the Southern blacks in general enjoy a freer commercial opportunity than the Northern because of their long and unchallenged possession of the greater part of the labor market, a market which in the North on the other hand is in the possession of white men and has long been jealously guarded by them against incoming black laborers. The black man's complaint, when sincerely and freely made is against the whites of the country in general for the race "problem" is not sectional but national wide. The difference, as stated, is one of conditions only and not one of spirit.

KAISER'S HAND IN ARMENIA.

A dispatch from Germany having announced that William Hohenzollern is "awaiting his fate like a Christian" a Philadelphia editor remarked there must have been an error in transmission as it should have read "like a good Mohammedan," for no Mohammedan or Turk was ever more ready to slay Christians by the wholesale. Although to some readers this may sound harsh, it is justified not only by the frightful carnage of the war but willfully precipitated and the barbarous methods he ordered or approved but by facts brought to light showing that he gave the Turks a free hand in the business of exterminating Christian populations, both Armenian and Greek.

The evidence in the Bryce report on the Armenian atrocities was partly taken from the testimony of German missionaries and nurses, suppressed in Germany but published in Switzerland, and the record was reached for by Ambassador Morgenthau, who wrote that the new feature of wholesale deportation added to Turkish massacre was inspired from Germany, where it was publicly advocated before the war as a means of acquiring "unccupied" territory. And now there has been brought to light a "confidential" German report on the massacres and deportations which not only admits that the charges are substantially correct but, while asserting that there were Germans who did not approve, significantly fails to make any claim that the German government so much as lifted a hand to check the Turks, who were plainly permitted to gorge themselves to the full with Christian blood.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"My hair is coming out dreadfully. Do you know of any way to prevent it?" "No; you ought to have thought of that before you got married."—Baltimore American.

"What is your opinion of the league of nations?" "I regard it," replied Senator Borah, "as one of the most interesting pieces of unfinished business that ever came to my attention."—Washington Star.

"Ah," sighed the poet sadly, "I made the mistake of my life when I was young." "What's the matter?" "In the light of the present high wages I regret now that I didn't follow my father's advice and learn a trade."—Detroit Free Press.

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "would you mind helping me with a little bit of arithmetic?" "Not at all." "Well, if we pay the cook all the wages she wants will we have enough money left to buy anything for her to cook?"—Washington Star.

"The cook says she is going to take a two-weeks' vacation, John." "Gee! I wish we could afford to!"—Life.

Pessimist—"I have only one friend on earth—my dog." Optimist—"Why don't you get another dog?"—Judge.

"Is an aviary where the aviators stay, pa?" "Well, it ought to be. Around they blunder!"—Baltimore American.

"What can be the cause of that crowd gathering over there?" "Oh, vulgar curiosity, I suppose. 'Let's go over.'"—Boston Transcript.

"I made a 200 yard drive yesterday," said the golf nut. "You look to me," said the nice old lady, "like a man who ought to be ashamed to want to ride such a short distance as that."—Detroit Free Press.

Romantic Miss—"Oh, Captain, there's a bottle! Perhaps there's something in it!" "Tain't likely, Miss. Nobody's throwin' 'em away with anything left in 'em nowadays."—Judge.

"Of course, you would never think of deserting your party!" "Never!" said Senator Sorghum. "On the contrary, it sometimes takes quick work on my part to keep my party from deserting me."—Washington Star.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Mr. J. Stoenburgh of Brooklyn visited relatives in this place last week.

Fred Shader and family were the guests of his mother, Mrs. Lucinda Shader, in Saugerties, on Sunday. Nelson W. and Louis E. Snyder are making hay, which the latter had purchased of Mr. Devoir of New York on his farm here.

Henry Zeiler was a guest of his sister-in-law, Mrs. A. G. Friedrich, last week. His wife, who has been with her sister for some time, returned to Corbetta, L. I., with him. Mildred Friedrich came up with him to remain with her mother during school vacation.

Owing to the rain on Tuesday the Willing Workers did not turn out in full force, so they met again on Wednesday afternoon to decide about the church cashbox. It was the unanimous vote to have the Seamen Bros. Co. of Saugerties, do the upholstering. Their bid was the lowest on material in quality that the ladies decided on. After the decision was made, the president, Miss Doris A. Snyder, invited the members to walk across the road to the school house, where she gave them a surprise reception. The desks were trimmed in the Reformed church colors, blue and orange. After the Lord's prayer was repeated in concert, the refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, baked beans, potato salad, pickles, cake and coffee, and last and best of all, for there was no war tax on it, came a large dish of good home-made ice cream. Mrs. Jason Longendyke, the secretary of the Willing Workers, made a speech of thanks to the president, for her kindness in stewing and brewing for the rest of us, to which Miss Snyder responded. Our vice-president, Mrs. W. R. Snyder, also wrote out a bill of thanks on the blackboard, after which the setting sun warned the ladies to go home and get to work at supper for the men folks, so with many good wishes to Doar, they parted to meet again at the usual time, at which time we hope to finish off the blocks and also quit the quilt, which Mrs. Lavina Conner gave to the band. It was nearly completed by her daughter, Serena before her death. They extend thanks to Mrs. Conner for it, whose declining years keep her from coming out among her friends, but she still gives help to keep her church alive, of which she has long been a member.

K. OF C. TO WAR ON BOLSHEVISM

Believe Education Best Method
—Peace Convention at Buffalo to Consider Program For 600,000 Members of Order and Any Others Who Desire Higher Knowledge.

The steady wave of Bolshevism and social unrest that is sweeping the world and threatening to lay its poisonous tentacles even upon the United States can only be successfully combated with through education. In the opinion of the leading educators of the country who are conferring in New York this week to draw up a curriculum for the Knights of Columbus night schools which are to be started soon all over the country. The plan of nation wide education for everybody who wants to take advantage of the offer, and also for the 600,000 members of the order, is to be presented by the educators to the K. of C. Peace Convention which is to be held in Buffalo on August 5, 6 and 7.

No Ready Cure, Says Rev. Wynne.
The Rev. John J. Wynne, S. J., editor of the Catholic Encyclopedia, who is one of the leaders of the conference says there is no ready cure for Bolshevism, and all the other fallacious aims of political and economic philosophy in the mere crying of "Americanism."

"We've got to do more than cry 'Americanism,'" said Father Wynne. "We've got to show in understandable detail just what our ideals of social and industrial justice are; we've got to convince the forming mind of the justice of our ideals of property and law and order. These things have been confined heretofore to college and college extension courses. We want to make them available to every man and woman who wants to think straight about them."

This is one of the items of the program which is being prepared for the consideration of the peace convention of the Knights of Columbus in Buffalo next month. The program will run all the way from courses of philosophy in one syllable words, as suggested by Father Wynne, to such practical things as trades, stenography, business methods, languages and physical training. It is aimed to furnish any person struggling in the battle of life with what he needs.

To Avoid Delay in Learning.
"In New York, for instance," said Father Wynne, "the young man or young woman who finds that stenography would help a career, must wait four years to learn it in the public night schools. Frequently the cost of quicker progress in a private school is a bar. This is typical of the need we want to meet."

The 6,000 councils of the Knights of Columbus with their 600,000 members will provide for those courses as they are needed in the various localities, and the whole system will be supervised by experts engaged for the purpose. While the New York councils may specialize in instruction in the mechanics of business, those of the middle West are called upon to supply expert agricultural knowledge.

Prominent Knights To Attend.
Those in attendance at the conference here include James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia, supreme knight; Joseph C. Polletier of Boston, supreme advocate; William J. McGinley of New York, supreme secretary; Father Wynne, Edward D. Devine, President of the Detroit Board of Education; Michael J. Downey, member of the Massachusetts Board of Education, Director of the Boston evening schools and professor in Johns Hopkins University; Baltimore; Peter W. Collins, Director of construction and re-employment work for the Knights of Columbus; Arthur Somers, former president of the New York Board of Education, and other educational experts, who will be called into the conference during the week.

The entry of the order into the educational field is a new departure and is the result of its success in welfare work with the armies at home and overseas during the war. While it is planned to exact small fees for the proposed courses, the councils probably will be asked to provide a general fund for supervisory expenses and to provide for the remission of fees in worthy cases.

Problem Not Merely of Wages.
Father Wynne expressed the opinion yesterday that all such expedients as profit sharing and the like so far attempted are but palliatives and not real solutions of the industrial problems of the day.

"Why," he asked, "should a man be permitted to share in profits when he has not assisted in their making? We believe in a just rate of wages. But the solution of the problem goes deeper than that. Men must have a certain amount of control in the industries in which they work, but there is no reason why they should control capital, which they have not created and do not own."

The Local Democratic Leaders Meet Again Friday Evening to Complete Their Self-Imposed Task of Picking a Slate.

"What's the latest dope in Democratic political circles?" asked the customer, as he entered the barber shop for a shave.

"The leaders meet again Friday evening to complete their task of picking a slate," replied the busy barber.

"I thought they did that the other night," interrupted the customer.

"No," replied the barber, "they are still seeking candidates for supervisor and alderman in some of the city wards."

"I get you," said the customer, "but do you think they will have them by then?"

"I understand the orders have gone out that the slate must be ready by that evening," replied the barber. "I wonder will they hold another secret session?" asked the customer.

"You mean an executive session," retorted the barber, "and indications point to the fact it will be executive."

"What's the reason?" asked the customer.

"Ask me something easy," replied the barber, "but if you want to have some fun ask some of the leaders who attended the last session who their candidate for senator is."

"We are not voting for a senator this fall though," retorted the customer.

"I know it," replied the barber, "but at the executive session the other night one of the leaders offered the name of a prominent downtown Democrat as a candidate for that office, and delivered a glowing speech in his behalf."

"Huh," grunted the customer.

"No kidding," replied the barber, "but Chairman Quigley declared the orator out of order as that was one more candidate than they needed."

"Who didn't they present a candidate for governor while they were at it?" asked the customer.

"Probably because the hour was growing late," explained the barber.

AMERICA'S IMMORTALS

GEORGE S. ROBB,
First Lieutenant, 30th Infantry.
For conspicuous gallantry, beyond the call of duty, near Bechault, France, September 29 and 30, Lieut. Robb was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. While leading his platoon in the assault on Sechault, Lieut. Robb was severely wounded by machine gun fire, but rather than go to the rear for proper treatment, he remained with his platoon, until ordered to the dressing station by his commanding officer. Returning within forty-five minutes, he remained on duty throughout the entire night, inspecting his lines and establishing outposts. Early the next morning he was again wounded, once again displaying remarkable devotion to duty, by remaining in command of his platoon. Later the same day a bursting shell added two more wounds, the same shell killing his commanding officer and two officers of his company. He then assumed command of his company, and organized its position in the trenches. Displaying wonderful courage and tenacity at the critical times, he was the only officer of his battalion who advanced beyond the town and by clearing machine gun and sniping posts, contributed largely to the aid of his battalion in holding their objective. His example of bravery and fortitude and his eagerness to continue with his mission despite severe wounds, set before the enlisted men of his command a most wonderful standard of morale and self-sacrifice. Lieut. Robb's home address is 308 South Twelfth street, Salina, Kan., where his mother lives.

Senile Marriages.
Some bygone lawmakers would have been in sympathy with the Brooklyn millionaire who maintains that at 80 he was too old to be legally married. In Rome, under the Emperor Augustus, a law was passed forbidding men to marry when they were over 60, and women when they were over 50. Peter the Great, also disapproved of senile marriage, and enacted that no marriage age contract should hold good if either of the contracting parties was over 60 at the time it was entered upon.

Her Last Social Function.
My small son on coming home from school one noon said to me: "Mother, I'm going over to Bubby's home this afternoon." On my asking what he was going for he replied: "Why, don't you know his grandma is having her funeral this afternoon?"—Chicago Tribune.

Almost Forgotten.
The bride and bridegroom were just about to say "I will," when the bride's mother dashed madly from the room, and returned, running up the aisle to the bride, and pushed the bridal bouquet into the bride's hands. In the excitement of the occasion the flowers had been forgotten.

LAW OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.
AN ACT to amend the conservation law, in relation to the destruction of certain wild birds destroying crops.
Became a law April 13, 1919, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section two hundred and nineteen of chapter six hundred and forty-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and eleven, entitled "An act relating to conservation of land, forests, waters, parks, hydraulic power, fish and game, and the protection of certain species of the consolidated laws," as last amended by chapter four hundred and eighty-six of the laws of nineteen hundred and seventeen, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 19. Certain species of birds, protected by this article, shall not be taken or possessed at any time, dead or alive, except under the authority of a certificate issued under this article. Red-winged blackbirds which are destroying any crop may be killed at any time during the months of June, July, August and September by the owner or occupant of any real property on which such crop is being grown, or by any person in the employ of such owner or occupant, but no part of the plumage, skin or body of any bird protected by this section or of any bird coming from the Eastern or Western States, whether belonging to the same or a different species from that native to the State of New York, provided such birds belong to the same family as those protected by this article, shall be sold or had in possession for sale. The provisions of this section shall not apply to game birds for which an open season is provided in this article, birds or parts thereof collected or possessed in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and fifty-nine.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State, at Albany.
I have compared the preceding with the original law on file in this office, and do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcription therefrom and of the whole of said original law.
FRANCIS M. HOGG,
Secretary of State.

LAWS OF NEW YORK.—By Authority.
CHAP. 283.
AN ACT to amend chapter fifteen of the laws of 1892, entitled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the office of the Secretary of State."

entitled "An act to incorporate the trustees of the fund for the widows and orphans of deceased clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the diocese Albany."

Became a law May 2, 1912, with the approval of the Governor. Passed, three-fifths being present.

The People of the State of New York, presented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Chapter fifteen of the laws eighteen hundred and seventy, entitled

§ 6 The said corporation is hereby authorized to transfer, convey and assign such moneys and property as it may now have and such as it may hereafter acquire to such trust company organized and existing under the laws of the state may be designated by said corporation, subject to the approval of the convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany. Such moneys and property to be held by such trust company in trust to invest and reinvest in such manner as trust funds are allowed to be invested under the laws of this State existing at the time of such investment, and the income from such moneys and property shall be paid and apporgoverned by such trust company to the said corporation and its duly authorized officers. The convention of said church in said diocese may from time to time designate other and different trust companies organized and existing under the laws of this state as the custodian and trustee of such moneys and property subject to the same regulations and restrictions. The trust company having custody of such moneys and property shall at least annually and as often as ay be required by the corporation make full and true report to it of the condition of such fund.

§ 7. The said corporation may, and is hereby directed by the convention of said church in said diocese shall pay over the whole or any part of the net income from said fund to be received from such trust company to "The Church Pension Fund," a corporation created and existing under chapter ninety-seven of the laws of nineteen hundred and fourteen to be applied to data to the reduction of the assessment on the parishes and missions of the diocese of Albany which have been, or shall hereafter be insured by said pension fund; and when authorized by the convention of said church in said diocese said corporation shall enter into a contract with said church pension fund, which shall provide for the assumption of said pension fund of, first, the outstanding obligations of said corporation;

balance of the income of said corporation to the reduction of the assessments of the parishes and missions of said diocese which have been or shall hereafter be insured by the said pension fund provided, however, that the church pension fund shall be at liberty upon giving one year's notice to terminate the said contract, and that the said corporation shall be at liberty to terminate the said contract upon giving year's notices to the church pension and if directed by the convention of the peace of Albany so to do.

2. This act shall take effect immediately.

HOW CITY MAY GET ARMY FOOD

Women's Clubs or Other Co-operative Agencies May Buy Through Commissioner Porter and Distribute Without Profit to Consumers.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., July 31.—Distribute at cost of surplus army foods among citizens of New York state will be authorized by the war department through Dr. Eugene H. Porter, state commissioner of foods and markets, according to arrangements completed Wednesday at a meeting of army officers and state officials. Mayors of cities of the state have been asked to designate volunteer purchasing committees of cooperative associations, women's clubs, Consumers' Leagues or other agencies which will agree to buy and distribute these goods to consumers only and without profit.

City Has No Power.
Under their charters, municipalities are without power to purchase these supplies and war department rules require that these surplus stores shall not be disposed of to dealers. Thus the distribution, to reach the ultimate consumer at a minimum delivery charge, can only be handled by co-operative or volunteer agencies army men point out.

Commissioner Porter's letter to the municipalities and to chairmen of county boards of supervisors is as follows:

"As state commissioner of foods and markets I deem it my duty to call your attention to the opportunity offered to your citizens to acquire below cost certain foodstuffs purchased by the U. S. war department for army purposes.

Food is First Quality.

"A detailed list of the commodities available at the army reserve depot at Schoenectady is appended to this letter. These foods were packed in 1918 under army regulations requiring that the food remain in good condition for three years. Before shipping, the army authorities will throw out any cans showing signs of deterioration of contents. These foods were put up by first class house and are of A 1 quality.

"The terms of sale are that not less than a car load must be purchased, but the order may include any or all varieties of the foods available. A car load averages 800 to 1,000 cases, and the terms are f. o. b. Schoenectady, cash with order or payment within ten days. Where longer credit is desired, the merits of the case must be passed upon by the authorities at Washington.

Asks Aid in Distribution.
"Under your charter it is probably impossible for your municipality as a corporation, to purchase any of these goods for re-sale, and neither the council of farms and markets nor my division of foods and markets has any power to authorize you to purchase or to purchase on its own account, but as a result of conference had at Schoenectady, I strongly urge you to co-operate with me in getting these very desirable foodstuffs into the hands of your citizens, especially those whose limited resources would make the possible savings in cost particularly welcome.

"By way of suggestion, can you put me in touch with any groups of citizens, such as cooperative societies, consumers' leagues, women's clubs, neighborhood or settlement houses, charitable or relief organizations, hospital or similar institutional authorities, which, independently or together, could purchase one or more mixed carloads and arrange for their distribution. Failing this, would it not be possible for you to appoint a special committee of influential and public-spirited citizens which could arrange for such purchases and distribution? No doubt some of your local bankers will be glad to assist in the financing of any purchases.

Samples at Albany.

"The army authorities will sell to any such group upon my assurance that the food will be distributed by it without profit, but the price at which it is resold to individuals may include all costs of handling.

"I am prepared to negotiate with the army authorities for the purchase of any of these supplies upon request from any group of citizens, and trust that I may have your assistance as suggested. Samples of all the commodities for sale can be seen at my office in Albany.

Prince May Go West.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 31.—Although it is officially announced that the Prince of Wales visit to the United States will be confined to Washington and New York, hopes are still entertained that the program will be altered to include a western tour. The Pall Mall Gazette stated today

DEMPSEY TO GET $15,000 A WEEK

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, July 31.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, began plucking the rich fruit of the championship today when he went into training for a theatrical engagement that will net him $225,000 for fifteen weeks of work. His stage engagement will begin August 17.

Dempsey, after a series of conferences, signed a contract with the firm of Linick & Jacoby to appear on the stage in the various large cities of the country for fifteen weeks at a salary of $15,000 weekly. A big vaudeville act will be built with Dempsey as the central figure. Until the act is ready for the stage the champion will spend his time developing the histrionic ability necessary to "get away" with the stunt. Promoters are after Dempsey for ring engagements also, the latest proposition being an offer from Jack Curley for a bout at Newark, N. J., with Willie Meehan, the bulky Californian.

CANFIELD SLATED For Pythians' Grand Vice-Chancellor.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Syracuse, July 31.—Transaction of routine business and listening to an address by Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo on the perils of Bolshevism occupied Wednesday's session of the Knights of Pythias convention in annual meeting here.

The convention is expected to adjourn today with the election of officers, selection of a convention city for next year's meeting and a discussion of the age limit question.

County Judge George Addington of Albany is slated for election as grand chancellor and Palmer Canfield of Kingston will be chosen grand vice-chancellor and Orson W. Middaugh of this city grand master of the exchequer.

Among the places in the field for next year's meeting place are New York city, Kingston, Alexandria Bay and Saratoga Springs, with the latter village said to be the favorite of the majority of the delegates.

Daylight Saving In Senate.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 31.—Daylight saving was again under fire today. The senate recently voted 56 to 6 for the repeal of this law in a rider to the agricultural appropriation bill which was later vetoed by the president. Today the senate was to vote on the separate repeal bill, which has already gone through the house.

But Thermometer Was 6 Miles in Air.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Minneapolis, July 31.—Although failing to establish a world's altitude record, Roland Rohfs, civilian aviator, flying a Curtis "wasp" biplane, set a new American mark Wednesday when, in an official flight from Roosevelt field, he reached a height of 30,000 feet. The world's record is 33,126 feet, made by Adjutant Casale of the French army last June. Rohfs said he found a temperature of 25 degrees below zero at an altitude of 30,000 feet and a 100-mile wind.

Wilson Talks With Anti's.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 31.—President Wilson today continued his discussion of the peace treaty with Republican senators at the White House. Senators New and Watson of Indiana, and Keyes of New Hampshire, were on the president's visiting list today. All three signed the round robin of protest against the League of Nations, and since then have repeatedly espoused reservations to the treaty.

ROUMANIA DISLIKES TERMS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Bucharest, July 30.—(Delayed)—"Roumania is profoundly dissatisfied with the peace conditions and unless I obtain guarantees of some concessions, I shall resign," declared Premier Bratiano, of Roumania, in an interview today. He continued:

"The reparations clauses are insufficient and it is unfair to expect us to pay any portion of the Austro-Hungarian debt if Transylvania is ceded to us. Roumanians are indignant that Paris (the peace conference) made so many concessions to Serbia at our expense. We are sure our troops, with the help of the allies, can crush Bela Kun.

"We think that Paris and London do not understand the menace to the peace of Europe that lies in the soviet government at Budapest. It is a festering sore."

Tuberculin Tests Any Time.

Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson announced today that regulations of November 1, 1917 requiring that written notice be furnished the bureau of animal industry of the division in advance of tuberculin tests of cattle or other examinations in cases where the approval of health certificates is desired, are discontinued. Those making tests will not now be required to give the division of agriculture an advance notice of the time they plan to make tuberculin tests.

Spencer's Business School Notes.

Below is another list of successful

Spencer's graduates who have recently acquired good positions in business:

Miss Catherine Mulvihill, an honor graduate of the stenographic department of Spencer's School, has secured an excellent position as stenographer and typist in the law offices of Wilson & Brigham, 55 Liberty street, New York city.

Miss Anna Roverano, of Saugerties, an honor graduate of Spencer's Business School, has obtained an excellent position as stenographer, typist and filing clerk with the Tissue Company, Saugerties.

Simon D. B. Snyder, who was recently discharged from the U. S.

Army, received the following telegram: "Come on down; your job is still open." First Lieut. Robert S.

Paole, U. S. A., U. S. A., Camp Gordon, Ga. Mr. Snyder will receive a handsome increase in salary, and his many friends in the vicinity will be glad to know that his services as chief clerk have been satisfactory.

Mr. Snyder left for Camp Gordon

Sunday.

The outlook for the fall session on September 2, is most promising.

Large numbers of bright, ambitious young people are now enrolling for the new school, because they know everything will be arranged for their comfort and convenience. In the new place Spencer's will have unsurpassed facilities for handling the greatest number of students in its history. A large sanitary drinking fountain is now being installed on the second floor. The interior will be handsomely decorated and the class rooms will be the brightest and brightest of any business school in

New York state. Students are invested to register at once so that seating arrangements can be made for the opening day.

Triangles Beat Nainburgs.

The Triangles defeated the Wilbur

Nainburgs Wednesday in a very excitng game by the score of 6 to 5.

OFFERINGS AT THE THEATRES

No more romantic story of the war has come than that of the famous Lost Battalion, and of the ringing answer made to the Germans by the American commander when they demanded his surrender. It has been told in story and in many columns of newspaper print. The men of the battalion have been pictured in the dailies and in the weekly news reels, but it has remained for David Wark Griffith to immortalize that story by impressing it in the indelible celluloid of a photodrama. "The Girl Who Stayed at Home," which will be shown at Keeney's tonight and tomorrow and is played by Griffith players, headed by Robert Harron.
